Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 10 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Unsettled and changeable for the next few days.

This Evening and Tonight:
Windy with evening rain clearing to a mixture of clear spells and blustery showers, heavy at times. Showers will merge into longer spells of rain over England and Wales later. Windy, especially over England and Wales where gales for some.

Thursday:
A windy, blustery day with a mixture sunny spells and blustery showers, heavy at times. Feeling colder than on Thursday. Windiest conditions likely over eastern England at first.

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Sunny spells and blustery showers. The showers heaviest and most frequent in the west with hail, thunder and perhaps snow over high ground. Showers easing on Sunday. Windy.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.